

Supervisor Nolan Visits Renovated 9/11 Memorial Garden in Sayville

Friday, 16 July 2010 09:27

Islip, NY –Islip Town Supervisor Phil Nolan recently visited the Jackie Sayegh Duggan Memorial Garden in Sayville to view the renovations and improvements undertaken by the Town and community.

The garden, located on River Road in Sayville, is a commemoration to all those lost in the attacks of September 11th, including Jackie Duggan, a Sayville resident who lived nearby. Her mother, Diana Sayegh, organized and constructed the garden with the help of the Sayville community. The Town recently worked with the local community to install a stone pathway and sprinkler system, and LIPA provided a spotlight.

Pictured (above) Supervisor Nolan tours the garden with local resident and organizer Diana Sayegh.

Pictured (below) the Jackie Sayegh Duggan Memorial Garden and commemorative plaque.

